govinity

Modern legislative management that is secure and easy to buy.

Purpose-built for public agencies, Govinity connects procurement, agenda management, and board approval in one system, built with procurement's workflow in mind from the start.

THEPROCUREMENTPROBLEM

A vendor that doesn't deliver costs you more than software. It costs you the process.

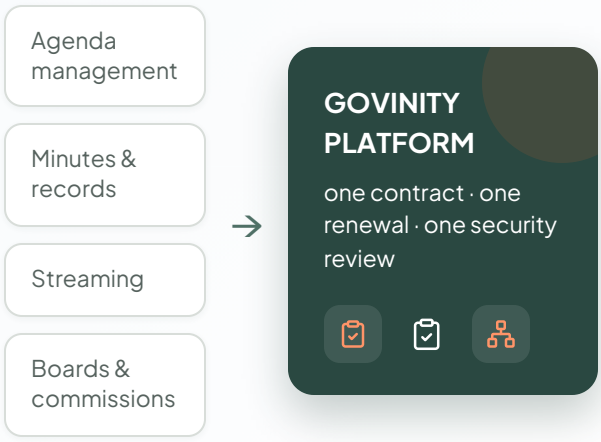

Requirements analysis. Stakeholder buy-in. Evaluation criteria. Change management. A sourcing process takes months to do right, and all of it has to happen again when a vendor doesn't deliver.

THEGOVINITYPLATFORM

The Open Governance Operating System, built with procurement in mind.

Procurement drives a major share of what reaches the board. Govinity was built knowing that, so procurement submits, routes, and tracks agenda items directly, not around a system built for someone else.

- Procurement submits, routes, and tracks its own agenda items — no re-keying, no chasing status by email
- Contract approvals, award recommendations, and renewals move through configurable, auditable workflows
- Every action is timestamped and tied to the record — audit-ready and protest-ready by default
- One platform consolidates agenda, minutes, streaming, and boards & commissions — one contract, one renewal, one security review

Built for every level of government.

In partnership with public agencies shaping the future of open governance.

Purpose-built by experts in procurement.

Govinity's team knows procurement from the inside — the routing, the sign-offs, the accountability. That expertise shapes how the product works, not just how it's sold.
